February 7, 2014

Mr. Todd Whitney
Chief Executive Officer
Elant Choice, Inc.
46 Harriman Drive
Goshen, NY 10924

This letter sets forth our understanding of the terms and objectives of our engagement, and the nature and scope of the services we will provide to Elant Choice, Inc. ("Choice").

Audit objectives

We will audit Choice's statement of financial position and the related statement of operations and changes in net assets, and cash flows as of and for the year ending December 31, 2013 and issue our report thereon as soon as reasonably possible after completion of our work. The objective of an audit is the expression of an opinion on whether these financial statements are presented fairly, in all material respects, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("US GAAP").

We will also perform additional procedures necessary to certify the supplemental information required by New York State Department of Health in the cost report. The preparation of these reports will be the responsibility of Choice. Our responsibility will be to render our opinion on the cost report based on our audit procedures performed.

We will conduct the audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America ("US GAAS"). Those standards require that we obtain reasonable, rather than absolute, assurance that the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether caused by error or fraud. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation.

Because of the inherent limitations of an audit, combined with the inherent limitations of internal control, and because we will not perform a detailed examination of all transactions, there is a risk that material misstatements may exist and not be detected by us even though the audit is properly planned and performed in accordance with US GAAS. In addition, an audit is not designed to detect immaterial misstatements or violations of laws or governmental regulations that do not have a direct and material effect on the financial statements. However, we will inform the appropriate level of management of any material errors or any fraudulent financial reporting or misappropriation of assets that comes to our attention. We will also inform the appropriate level of management of any violations of laws or governmental regulations that come to our attention, unless clearly inconsequential.

O'Connor Davies, LLP is a member firm of the PKF International Limited network of legally independent firms and does not accept any responsibility or liability for the actions or inactions on the part of any other individual member firm or firms.

If our opinion is other than unmodified, we will discuss the reasons with you in advance. If, for any reason, we are unable to complete the audit or are unable to form or have not formed an opinion, we may decline to express an opinion or decline to issue a report as a result of the engagement.

In making our risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. However, we will communicate to you in writing concerning any significant deficiencies or material weaknesses in internal control relevant to the audit of the financial statements that we have identified during the audit.

We will also communicate with those charged with governance any (a) fraud involving senior management and other fraud that causes a material misstatement of the financial statements; (b) violations of laws or governmental regulations that come to our attention (unless they are clearly inconsequential); (c) disagreements with management and other serious difficulties encountered in performing the audit; and, (d) various matters related to Choice's accounting policies and financial statements.

As part of our engagement, we may propose standard, adjusting, or correcting journal entries to your financial statements. Management, however, has final responsibility for reviewing the proposed entries and understanding the nature and impact of the proposed entries to the financial statements. It is our understanding that management has designated qualified individuals with the necessary expertise to be responsible and accountable for overseeing the acceptance and processing of such journal entries.

Our responsibility as auditors is limited to the period covered by our audit and does not extend to any later periods for which we are not engaged as auditors.

Management's responsibilities

The financial statements and their fair presentation in accordance with US GAAP, including all informative disclosures, are the responsibility of Choice's management. Management is also responsible for: (1) the selection and application of accounting policies; (2) the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error and for informing us of all significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of such controls of which it has knowledge; (3) identifying and ensuring Choice complies with the laws and regulations applicable to its activities; (4) making all financial records and related information available to us of which you are aware that is relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements, as well as any additional information that we may request for the purpose of the audit; (5) providing us with unrestricted access to persons within Choice from whom we determine it necessary to obtain audit evidence; and (6) adjusting the financial statements to correct material misstatements.

Management is also responsible for the design and implementation of programs and controls to prevent and detect fraud, and for informing us about all known or suspected fraud affecting Choice involving: (1) management; (2) employees who have significant roles in internal control; and, (3) others where the fraud could have a material effect on the financial statements. Management's responsibilities include informing us of their knowledge of any allegations of fraud or suspected fraud affecting Choice received in communications from employees, former employees, grantors, regulators, or others.

At the conclusion of the engagement, we will request from management written confirmation concerning representations made to us in connection with the audit. The representation letter, among other things, will confirm management's responsibility for: (1) the preparation of the financial statements in conformity with US GAAP, (2) the availability of financial records and related data, and (3) the completeness and availability of all minutes of board meetings. Management's representation letter will further confirm that: (1) the effects of any uncorrected misstatements aggregated by us during the engagement and pertaining to the latest period presented are immaterial, both individually and in the aggregate, to the financial statements taken as a whole, and (2) we have been informed of or that there were no incidences of fraud involving management or those employees who have significant roles in Choice's internal control. We will place reliance on these representations in issuing our report.

In the event that we become obligated to pay any cost, settlement, judgment, fine, penalty, or similar award or sanction as a result of a claim, investigation, or other proceeding instituted by any third party, as a direct or indirect result of an intentional, knowing or reckless misrepresentation or provision to us of inaccurate or incomplete information by Choice or any director, officer or employee thereof in connection with this engagement, and not any failure on our part to comply with professional standards, you agree to indemnify us against such obligations.

To the best of your knowledge, you are unaware of any facts which might impair our independence with respect to this engagement.

If you intend to publish or otherwise reproduce our report on the financial statements and make reference to our firm, you agree to provide us with printer's proofs or masters for our review and approval before printing. You also agree to provide us with a copy of the final reproduced material for our approval before it is distributed. If you intend to distribute the material in electronic format, you must provide us both the electronic version as well as an actual print-out for our approval. Because our engagement does not contemplate the foregoing, there may be an additional fee in connection with our review. In the event our auditor/client relationship has been terminated when Choice seeks such consent, we will be under no obligation to grant such consent or approval.

With regard to the electronic dissemination of audited financial statements, including financial statements published electronically on your website, you understand that electronic sites are a means to distribute information and therefore, we are not required to read the information contained in these sites or to consider the consistency of other information in the electronic site with the original document.

We understand that your accounting department personnel will assist us to the extent practicable in completing the audit. They will provide us with detailed trial balances, supporting schedules, and other information we deem necessary. A list of these schedules and other items of information will be furnished to you shortly before we begin the audit. The timely and accurate completion of this information is an essential condition to our completion of the audit and the issuance of the audit report.

We keep documents related to this engagement in accordance with our records retention policy and applicable regulations. However, we do not keep any original client records, so we will return those to you at the completion of the services rendered under this engagement. When records are returned to you, it is your responsibility to retain and protect your records for possible future use, including potential examination by any government or regulatory agencies.

Management is responsible for management decisions and assuming all management responsibilities; for designating an individual with suitable skill, knowledge, and/or experience to oversee the (tax or other non-attest services) we provide; and for evaluating the adequacy and results of those services and accepting responsibility for them.

Those non-attest and tax services are detailed below.

We will assist in preparation of the Medicaid cost report for the year ended December 31, 2013.

Preparation of Organization tax returns

Our engagement will also include preparation of Choice's Federal and state information and tax returns (Federal Forms 990 and New York State CHAR 500) for the year ending December 31, 2013. The information and tax returns will be prepared based upon Choice's financial records.

Management is responsible for the proper recording of transactions in the accounts and records. Management also has final responsibility for the Federal and state information and tax returns and, therefore, the appropriate corporate officials should review the return carefully before an authorized officer signs and files them.

Tax return preparers must comply with provisions that require positions taken on tax returns to have "substantial authority". It is our policy to only take tax return positions for which we believe there is a reasonable basis. A reasonable basis position may not meet the Internal Revenue Service standard for "substantial authority" positions. The Internal Revenue Service may assess a substantial understatement penalty if there is not substantial authority for a position taken in the return. We will discuss tax positions that may increase the risk of exposure to penalties with you before completing preparation of the return. We will use our judgment in resolving questions where the tax law is unclear, or where conflicts exist between taxing authorities' interpretations of the law and other supportable positions. Unless otherwise instructed by you, we will resolve such questions in Choice's favor whenever possible. Alternatively, a disclosure form may be attached to the tax return if there is at least a "reasonable basis" for the position. We may have to undertake additional research to determine whether a position on your return is more likely than not proper. The billing arrangements discussed elsewhere in this letter do not reflect these costs, which will be billed at our normal hourly rates.

Our work in connection with the preparation of the Federal and state information and tax returns does not include any procedures designed to discover fraud or other irregularities.

Non reliance on oral advice

It is our policy to put all advice on which a client intends to rely in writing. We believe that is necessary to avoid confusion and to make clear the specific nature and limitations of our advice. You should not rely on any advice that has not been put in writing by our firm after a full supervisory review.

Electronic and other communication

During the course of the engagement, we may communicate with you or with Choice personnel via fax or e-mail. You should be aware that communication in those media may be unsafe to use and contains a risk of misdirection and/or interception by unintended third parties, or failed delivery or receipt. In that regard, you agree that we shall have no liability for any loss or damage to any person or entity resulting from the use of e-mail or other electronic transmissions, including any consequential, incidental, direct, indirect or special damages.

Access to working papers

During the course of this engagement, we will develop files of various documents, schedules and other related engagement information known as our working papers. As we are sure you can appreciate, these working papers may contain confidential information and our firm's proprietary data. You understand and agree that these working papers are, and will remain, our exclusive property. Except as discussed below, any requests for access to our working papers will be discussed with you before making them available to requesting parties:

- (1) Our firm, as well as other accounting firms, participates in a peer review program covering our audit and accounting practices. This program requires that once every three years we subject our system of quality control to an examination by another accounting firm. As part of this process, the other firm will review a sample of our work. It is possible that the work we perform for you may be selected for review. If it is, the other firm is bound by professional standards to keep all information confidential.
- (2) We may be requested to make certain working papers available to regulators pursuant to authority given to them by law, regulation or subpoena. If requested, access to such working papers will be provided under the supervision of our personnel. Furthermore, upon request, we may provide photocopies of selected working papers to them. The regulator may intend, or decide, to distribute the photocopies or information contained therein to others, including other government agencies.

Fees and billing

Our fees are based on actual time expended at our standard hourly rates, plus travel and other out-of-pocket costs. We estimate our fee will be $24,000. Progress billings will be submitted periodically and will be payable upon presentation. In addition, if the condition of the accounting records is such that it would require excessive time on our part, we will consult with you beforehand regarding any possible additional charge for the time involved.

In accordance with our firm policies, work may be suspended if your account becomes overdue and will not be resumed until your account is paid in full. If we elect to terminate our services for nonpayment, our engagement will be deemed to have been completed even if we have not issued our report. You will be obligated to compensate us for all time expended and to reimburse us for all out-of-pocket expenditures through the date of termination.

Liability

Any and all claims by Choice arising under this engagement must be commenced by Choice within one year following the date on which our firm delivered our report on the financial statements associated with this engagement, or the date Choice is informed of the engagement's termination in the event our report is not delivered, for any reason.

Our firm's maximum liability to Choice for any reason relating to the services under this letter shall be limited to three times the fees paid to the firm for the services or work product giving rise to liability, except to the extent it is finally determined that such liability resulted from the willful or intentional misconduct or fraudulent behavior of the firm. In no event shall the firm be liable to Choice, whether a claim be in tort, contract or otherwise, for any consequential, indirect, lost profit or similar damages.

You agree to indemnify our firm, its partners, principals and employees, to the fullest extent permitted by law for any expense, including compensation for our time at our standard billing rates and reimbursement for our out-of-pocket expenses and reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred in complying with or responding to any request (by subpoena or otherwise) for testimony, documents or other information concerning Choice by any governmental agency or investigative body or by a party in any litigation or dispute other than litigation or disputes involving claims by Choice against the firm. This indemnification will survive termination of this engagement.

Dispute resolution

Any claim or controversy ("dispute") arising out of or relating to this engagement, the services provided thereunder, or any other services provided by or on behalf of the firm or any of its subcontractors or agents to Choice or at its request (including any dispute involving any person or entity for whose benefit the services in question are or were provided), shall first be submitted in good faith for mediation administered by the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") under its Mediation Rules. Each party shall bear its own costs in the mediation. Absent an agreement to the contrary, the fees and expenses of the mediator shall be shared equally by the parties.

If the dispute is not resolved by mediation within 90 days of its submission to the mediator, then, and only then, the parties shall submit the dispute for arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association under its Professional Accounting and Related Services Dispute Resolution Rules (the "Rules"). The arbitration will be conducted before a single arbitrator selected from the AAA's Panel of Accounting Professionals and Attorneys and shall take place in New York, New York.

Any discovery sought in connection with the arbitration must be expressly approved by the arbitrator upon a showing of substantial need by the party seeking discovery.

All aspects of the arbitration shall be treated as confidential. The parties and the arbitrator may disclose the existence, content or result of the arbitration only as expressly provided by the Rules.

The arbitrator shall issue his or her final award in a written and reasoned decision to be provided to each party. In his or her decision, the arbitrator will declare one party the prevailing party. The arbitrator shall have the power to award to the prevailing party reasonable legal fees associated with the arbitration and prior mediation. The arbitrator shall have no authority to award non-monetary or equitable relief of any sort. The arbitrator shall not have authority to award damages that are punitive in nature, or that are not measured by the prevailing party's actual compensatory loss.

The award reached as a result of the arbitration will be binding on the parties and confirmation of the arbitration award may be sought in any court having jurisdiction.

This engagement will be governed by the laws of the State of New York, without giving effect to any provisions relating to conflict of laws that would require the laws of another jurisdiction to apply.

Confirmation

Christopher J. McCarthy is the engagement partner and is responsible for supervising the engagement and signing the report or authorizing another individual to sign it. We expect to begin our audit in February 10, 2014.

7

Our audit engagement (for each period) ends on delivery of our audit report (covering that period). Request for services other than those included in this engagement letter will be agreed upon separately.

The above arrangements will continue from year to year until modified or canceled.

All rights and obligations set forth herein shall become the rights and obligations of any successor firm to O'Connor Davies, LLP by way of merger, acquisition or otherwise.

If this letter correctly expresses your understanding of the terms of our engagement, including our respective responsibilities, please sign the enclosed copy where indicated and return it to us.

We are pleased to have this opportunity to serve you.

Very truly yours,

O'Connor Davies, LLP

Enc.

The services and terms described in the foregoing letter are in accordance with our requirements and are acceptable to us.
